

100 Years Ago This Month in The American Mathematical Monthly
Edited by Vadim Ponomarenko

Sir JOSEPH LARMOR, of the University of Cambridge, has been elected “correspondant” in place of Professor Liapounoff (cf. 1920, 179, 384) in the section of geometry of the Academy of Sciences of the Institute of France.

At the thirteenth regular meeting of the Association of Mathematics Teachers of New Jersey, at Rutgers College on October 30, the following papers were read by members of the Association: “The report of the National Committee from the viewpoint of college entrance requirements” by Dean H. E. HAWKES of Columbia University; “The law of exponents” by Professor RICHARD MORRIS of Rutgers College.

—Excerpted from “Notes and News” (1920). 27(12): 483–484.